Application Policy

The work in all four images must be representative of the work to be sold at the art fair. Clear, good-quality images are essential to a fair review. It is suggested that artists who have previously participated send photos of recent work. Names of applicants will not be revealed during the review process. Artists may show work only in categories approved by the jury. This also applies to the jewelry category. All work must be executed by the accepted artists, should not be craft-like and must reflect high quality in workmanship. Precast or purchased items are not acceptable, except when repurposing.

If premade items are found on display, the artist will be asked to remove them from the booth.

Late applicants will not be juried; therefore, they will not be eligible for awards. In addition, late applicants will be added to Art on the Mall based upon the discretion of the show, and decisions of the show are final.
